Boxing Week Specials

There are tons and tons of sales happening for Boxing Week this year. Due to space limitations, not all rebates and sales are listed so contact us if there is something you want to buy and it is not shown below. Also note that most DSLR bodies and lenses are now special order items since mirrorless systems have mostly taken over. However we are happy to special order anything that you might want, so don't hesitate to contact us! Since there are too many to list in our newsletter, for all the deals, see our rebate blog posting here:

A Look Forward...

First off, let me wish all of you a wonderful holiday season, and all the best for health, happiness and success in 2024! May your holidays be filled with joy, and lots of memorable photos too!

Along with all of these Boxing Week rebates, many of which extend well into 2024, I also wanted to briefly mention a few trends we've seen over the last year, and a prediction, although all things considered, an easy one!

My expectation is that DSLR body and lens sales will continue to dwindle, although they are near nonexistent already. Cameras like Nikon's new Z8 and Z9 have really put the last nails in the coffin of the pro DSLR. Those two bodies are stunningly good and there is absolutely nothing of note that a DSLR can do better, and plenty of ways the Z8 and Z9 just obliterate the performance of the best DSLRs. Nikon recently announced the very popular Zf, a full-frame “retro” inspired body that harkens back to the classic Nikon FA film camera in many aspects of its design. It is a thing of beauty!

Nikon Zf body with Z 40mm f/2 SE.

It is also worth mentioning that Sony's new A9 III has also raised the bar for mirrorless camera performance. The A9 III sports a true global shutter, meaning the entire sensor is read out at exactly the same instant so there is zero rolling shutter distortion. You can vary that camera's continuous still image shooting speed from 5 fps up to an insane 120 fps, with pre-buffering available so your reflexes are no longer the reason why you might miss the start of some sudden peak action. The global electronic shutter (eShutter) also means you can flash-sync at any shutter speed, up to a ridiculous 1/80,000 of a second. With strobes, or enough ambient light and a fast lens, you can freeze action better than pretty much any other camera out there, without risk of the rolling shutter distortion that can degrade shots taken with other fast eShutter cameras.

Canon continues to expand their successful mirrorless system, with less expensive full-frame models like the R8, and truly affordable APS-C models like the EOS R100, which can be had for under $600 with a kit lens at the moment. Their strong lineup of RF lenses continues to grow with many exceptional 'L' series primes and zooms. It also seems as though photographers either want to see their images printed again, or are selling more prints, but there has been a bit of a resurgence in printer sales.

Canon has many options for printers with exceptional print quality and longevity: the 13" wide PRO-300, the 17" wide PRO-1000 (our most popular seller) and then the large format imagePROGRAF models such as the PRO-2100 (24" wide) or PRO-4100 (44" wide). These printers all have glossy and matte black inks at the ready without requiring cartridge swaps for deep, rich blacks on any media, have primary colours like red and blue to offer wider colour gamuts and better deep shadow print quality, as well as a clear-coat “chroma optimizer” that minimizes gloss differential on glossy or semi-glossy media. Compared to some other brands, required head cleanings are few and far between, and should there ever be a print head malfunction, the print heads are even user replaceable, albeit expensive since they are arguably the most critical and complex component in the printer.

Fujifilm continues to expand the lens system of their GFX medium format series of camera. There are new fast primes like the GF 55mm f/1.7, as well as more exotic glass, such as the truly superb new GF 30mm T/S (tilt/shift) and GF 110mm

T/S macro lenses. Current sale pricing is tremendous too, with the 50 megapixel GFX 50S II body coming in at just over $4,000 and the 100 megapixel GFX 100S at under $6,000. Most GF lenses are relatively affordable too, significantly less expensive than other high end medium format lenses and priced around the same as pro-level zooms from Canon or Nikon.

Fujifilm GFX 100 II and a Fujinon GF 55mm f/1.7 R WR.

Fujifilm X-Pro2 and the new Fujinon XF 56mm f/1.2 R WR.

Fujifilm's X-system continues to be popular and many new lenses such as the XF 18mm f/1.4, the 33mm f/1.4 and new 56mm f/1.2 are incredibly good. I recently wrote about how much I like the XF 18mm f/1.4 R LM WR and XF 56mm f/1.2 R WR, and consider them benchmark lenses for optical quality. Fujifilm has been constantly improving their AF system, and alongside their traditional retro-inspired cameras like the X-T series (X-T5 / X-T30II), there are now the X-H and X-S series (X-H2 and X-S20 for example) for those who want more of a standard "DSLR experience" from a control standpoint. The X100V fixed lens compact camera has proven to be a runaway success for Fujifilm. It is easily the most asked for camera in 2022 and 2023, and we sold out all available pre-orders back in February of 2023 and delivered the final cameras to some very patient customers in October. While it received a significant push from Internet influencers that weren't dedicated photographers, it was also a legitimately superb camera with excellent image quality, a significantly improved lens compared to its predecessors, and a camera that was as much a joy to shoot as it was to look at. I would be very surprised if Fujifilm didn't come up with a replacement for it in 2024 - my one prediction!

Lastly, although we no longer sell Hasselblad, it was a sad day when I heard Hasselblad discontinued their "H-system". For many years, most of our high-end commercial customers shot with H-system Hasselblad gear but now the last medium format DSLR from Hasselblad, the H6D, is gone, as are the lenses. As is happening with most other brands, DSLRs are dead and it is now all about mirrorless, and the future for Hasselblad is in their medium format mirrorless X-system.

Rentals

Jason K.

Happy New Year!

First of all, I hope everyone has a great holiday and all is well with you!

We cannot wait for the announcement of new products for 2024 that we can then add to our rental pool. There are rumours of new camera & lens announcements from Canon & Nikon, and possibly some new lighting products too! I hope 2024 will be a good year for new gear!

For this Boxing week (until Saturday, December 30), we are pleased to offer a 20% discount on all lighting and accessories rentals! Pick ups at any time from Wednesday, December 27 through to Saturday, December 30 will qualify. Light up the dreary, dark days of winter with some extra photons!

*NEW* FujiFilm GF 30mm f5.6T/S

We have just received our new FujiFilm GF 30mm f5.6 T/S lens! This amazing lens is the widest tilt/shift lens available for the Fuji GFX system, and is the rough equivalent to 24mm on 35mm full frame. The tilt and shift functions can be rotated independent of each other for maximum control. You can tilt the lens by up to +/- 8.5° for parallax correction and the shift can be adjusted up to 15mm in either direction. The 30mm f5.6 T/S will also record your lens adjustments to the metadata of the file! The lens also comes with a dedicated tripod collar, which when used helps maintain a consistent nodal point for shooting photo composites. See Mike's review on the blog. $65/Day or Weekend

We have a rental deal for the New Year's Day weekend! Beau Photo will be closed from Sunday, December 31, 2023 to January 1, 2024 and re-open on January 2. You can pick up your rental any time after noon on Friday, December 29 or during opening hours on Saturday, December 30, and as long as you return by 1pm on Tuesday, January 2, you just pay a ONE DAY rate!

A look back at 2023

What a year 2023 has been for me!

Since I've been at Beau, I've shot about 300 rolls in the span of 2 months, quite a lot in such a short amount of time.

For those that don't know, this past summer two friends and I created a local analogue group called Vanalog.

Vanalog is an analogue community where film photographers have an opportunity to meet one another and occasionally host photo-walks, and to share local film photographers work on our Instagram page.

The goal for Vanalog is to connect and learn from one another, and get more people into film.

We currently have around 370 people following the account and we wish to grow and improve in the upcoming year.

You can check out the Instagram page - <https://www.instagram.com/vanalog.ca/>

2023 is coming to an end, and it's not a secret anymore that Harman just came out with some new colour film called Phoenix 200. Phoenix 200 is an ISO 200 film stock. It is a UK made, C41 processed colour negative film, which you can develop in most places that take negative films. It is Harman's first-ever attempt at a colour film, and the brand describes it as "experimental in nature with some quirky characteristics," including strong, visible grain, high contrast, and unique colours.

It can be shot at ISO 100 or lower ISO's, though Harman advises that getting exposure just right will yield the most consistent results.

You can get some Phoenix 200 at Beau for $19.79

Scanning Services

Get your prints, negatives, and slides scanned so you can share the images with friends and family.

Do you have boxes and albums full of old photographs? We now offer a scanning service brought to you by Photo Expert Scanning. This great new service is a low cost approach that delivers quality images suitable for printing up to 12x18 inch sized prints.

- All scans are jpg format
- Print scans are all 300 DPI. 600 DPI is available on request
- 35mm scans are 2000 x 3000 pixels.
- With a properly exposed, sharp image, scans can easily be printed to 12 x 18 inches.

www.beauphoto.com/scanning-services

Get 10% off archival products with any scanning order! Ask us for details.

Note: this is not an in-house service and takes approximately two weeks from drop-off to completion.
